APRIL 2008, VOLUME XXIII, NUMBER 4

Dear members of the Princeton Club of Northern California,

As we approach the end of our fiscal year as well as Princeton's academic calendar, the Princeton Club of Northern California has had a wonderful year. Anchored by two very successful membership appreciation events in October, PCNC membership is at its highest levels in years. The nearly 600 members span the undergraduate alumni classes of 1940 to 2007; graduate alumni classes of 1952 to 2007; parents of alumni and current undergraduates; and geographically cover Truckee to Fresno and San Francisco to Livermore. The club has benefited from your strong participation and enthusiasm this year. Please plan to join again next year and enjoy an Annual Dinner in September and the Fleet Week Cruise in early October.

In the dues collection process, a subset of the club's members elect to give beyond the membership dues and donate funds to the Princeton Club of Northern California Scholarship. For the past several years, these donations have totaled between $1500-$2000. Club members have contributed over $70,000 since its inception in 1950, and through the power of successful investment management, the scholarship is currently able to fund one year of tuition for a student who grew up in Northern California. As a small thank you for your generosity towards helping the next generation, I would like to introduce you to one beneficiary of your donations to the PCNC Scholarship.

Thank you for your generous support of the Princeton Club of Northern California through your membership dues and for your extra support of regional initiatives like the PCNC Scholarship.

Yours truly,

Christina Cragholm '97 S'96

AMY OSTERMAN '10 is a native Californian. Born in Castro Valley, she spent the first year of her life in Mantica, CA, before moving to the Redding area when she was one year old. She is the appreciative recipient of the PCNC Scholarship for the 2007-2008 year.

DURING HER FIRST YEAR AND A HALF AT PRINCETON, Amy explored her interest in law and politics and developed a new one in the Near East. She will major in Politics and plans to pursue a certificate in Near Eastern Studies, and particularly enjoys politics as it relates to international security. Her second semester at Princeton marked a turning point in her studies when she enrolled in Islamic Family Law. There, her abiding interest in international law met fascinating new territory: "I loved learning about the classical tradition, comparing it to modern law and how the classical tradition has evolved to what we have today." Her Near East studies sparked a desire to learn the Persian language, and she is looking into opportunities to begin studying Persian this summer.

A RECENT TOWER CLUB ADDITION, she finds that she really appreciates the cappuccino machine, especially with a heavy course load of five classes this semester. "Politics, Near Eastern Studies, and my work with the campus Anscombe Society keep me very busy!" During her first year at Princeton, she did a lot of work for Princeton Pro-life. This year, she has been very involved with the Anscombe Society, and serves as outreach co-chair.

ONE OF HER FAVORITE THINGS about a Princeton education is its flexibility. "I appreciate the freedom I have to determine what classes to take, particularly in comparison to the experience of friends at other institutions," who often must fulfill rigid requirements. The flexibility of Princeton's distribution requirements gives her the chance to take more challenging and interesting coursework.

ALTHOUGH SHE ADMITS IT WAS AN ADJUSTMENT spending winter in Princeton coming from a part of Northern California with a milder climate, she wouldn't trade her Princeton experience. "I love being at Princeton! I love the small community. My professors know who I am, and I can talk to them. I love my classes. I love my professors, and I love my precepts!"

Young Alumni Happy Hour @ Terroir

For Old and New Alumni Friends!

Come out and enjoy catching up with other Bay Area young alums in this spacious, warehouse-y, gem of a wine bar in SOMA. Friends and family are more than welcome.

No rsvp required. This is definitely a casual affair. I'll be in the loft area at the top of the stairs with an orange polo shirt so that you can spot me.

First Friday of the Month Pub Night in Palo Alto

@ The Rose and Crown

Ring in April with pub night at the Rose and Crown! Chow down on your favorite British

PRINCETON WOMEN'S NETWORK BOOK CLUB

WEDNESDAY, APR. 9, 7-10 PM * WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 7-10 PM *
WEDNESDAY, JUN. 11, 7-10 PM

On the second Wednesday of each month, the PWN Book Club gathers in a member's home or an area restaurant to eat, chat, and (usually) discuss that month's literary selection. The location changes from month to month so we can be welcoming to alumnae from all over the Bay Area, and books are chosen by consensus with those who show up! Recent selections have included both fiction and non-fiction, modern and classic, from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to "The Botany of Desire", "The Virgin Suicides", and "Ender's Game". New participants are welcome all the time.

Please contact Amanda Whitehead '00 at 510-649-0425 or apostwhitehead@hotmail.com for more information.

Museum Tour of Drama and Desire at the Asian Art Museum Japanese Paintings from the Floating World, 1690-1850

Private tour of the dramatic and sexy special exhibition, Drama and Desire: Japanese Paintings from the Floating World, 1690 – 1850.

Spoiler Alert/Parent Advisory: This exhibition contains adult content. Please plan accordingly. If you have questions, please contact the organizer.

Come view these vivid and fascinating images of the Edo period entertainment quarter: beautiful and colorful courtesans, graceful geisha and fabulous actors, painted by some of the era's masters and most recognizable names including Hokusai and Hiroshige. The Asian Art Museum is the sixth and final stop for this world-traveling exhibition organized by the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, which owns the world's largest and finest collection of Ukiyo-e (floating world) paintings. For the first time in 100 years, these 80 rare and exquisite paintings are on view to the public. The colors and scenes are simply amazing!

This docent-led tour is private, and starts at 9:30 am before the museum opens at 10:00 am. Participation is limited to 20, so please RSVP in advance to secure your spot. The tour will last about one hour, and interested attendees can gather in the Museum's Cafe Asia after the tour to talk about the exhibition. The tour is open to Princeton friends and family.

Please be warned ahead of time: as this tour starts before the Museum opens, you will need to arrive at the Museum at 9:15. Once the group enters the Museum, you will not be able to enter until the Museum opens at 10:00 am for the general public. The early start time is worth it: during the first half of the tour, we will most likely have the exhibition to ourselves, with the exclusive attention of one of the Museum's highly knowledgeable docents.

21 Professor Peter Singer Visits PCNC

A Talk by Princeton's Philosopher and Bioethicist

PCNC is excited to welcome Princeton Professor Peter Singer to the Bay Area. He will speak to a PCNC audience on "Global Poverty: What are our Obligations?" Further details, including location and pricing, will be available closer to the event.

Peter Singer was born in Melbourne, Australia, in 1946, and educated at the University of Melbourne and the University of Oxford. He has taught at the University of Oxford, La Trobe University and Monash University, and has held several other visiting appointments. Since 1999 he has been Ira W. DeCamp Professor of Bioethics in the University Center for Human Values at Princeton University. From 2005 on, he has also held the part-time position of Laureate Professor at the University of Melbourne, in the Centre for Applied Philosophy and Public Ethics.

Peter Singer first became well-known internationally after the publication of Animal Liberation. Peter Singer was the founding President of the International Association of Bioethics, and with Helga Kuhse, founding co-editor of the journal Bioethics. Outside academic life, he is the co-founder, and President, of The Great Ape Project, an international effort to obtain basic rights for chimpanzees, gorillas and orangutans. He is also President of Animal Rights International.

Peter Singer is married, with three daughters. His recreations, apart from reading and writing, include hiking and surfing.

What Kind of President
Do We Want?
A Precept about Choice

I have been observing this process since Kennedy ran against Nixon. People figure out who they want. Then they say what they want to see in our next president. It always matches the guy they want.

Let us treat this like a Princeton precept in Politics 101. We will talk about what we want our next president to be like. We will try to prioritize what we want. We will not talk about which candidate we want to win. We will not talk about which party we want to win.

These events are always interesting. No idea is bad. No one gets shouted down. We exchange ideas and learn from the synergy.

We can also talk about future politics precepts:

What do we do to help our candidates win?

What will the future of American politics be?

Can we think up an objective way to evaluate how the people we elect are doing?

Whatever you want to talk about next.

6 From Hostility to Hospitality:
What's an IP Attorney Doing as an Innkeeper?

A Talk With Blackthorne Inn and Black Heron Inn Owner Bill Wigert '65

When Bill Wigert graduated from Princeton in '65, and law school in '68, little did he know that 15 years later he would spend his time creating, designing and building a very special "treehouse" inn, the Blackthorne Inn, in Inverness, California, later named one of "The World's Most Romantic Hotels" by Forbes Magazine.

Along the way, he also spent nearly 30 years as an Intellectual Property attorney at Limbach & Limbach, LLP working as a lead counsel in patent enforcement matters, litigation strategy, settlement negotiations, etc. in intellectual property matters. He now is with Jackson & Co., LLP.

When Bill and his wife Susan Wigert bought the acre of property in 1973, they were looking for a modest vacation cabin. But Bill was inspired by non-conventional houses and when he designed what became the Blackthorne he designed rooms with bits of local history -- beams from a San Francisco pier, solarium doors that were once part of the Southern Pacific Railroad Station in San Francisco, windows from a Julia Morgan designed school and hearthstones from Donner Pass -- the place grew with a life of its own. The spiral staircase, the skybridge, a stone hearth for fire-side evenings, with an actual fire pole and ladders are all highlights.

Grasslands

Spring Saturday Stroll in a Peninsula Park with a Local Alumna

Trained as an Edgewood Natural Preserve tour docent, Ann Sunhachawee '97 has graciously invited Princeton Club of Northern California members to join her on her scheduled walk on Saturday, May 10, 2008. Ann's tours are quite popular with locals and often oversubscribed so make sure to plan ahead to join her.

If you cannot make the May date, Ann will also be leading a tour on Saturday, April 12 and other trained guides lead walks every weekend throughout the spring season. For further information, please visit: http://friendsofthewalk.org/docent\_walks\_2008.htm.

Edgewood's serpentine grasslands are renowned throughout California for their lush wildflower carpets and rich biodiversity. You might see dozens of species of flowers on a single walk! The free walk varies according to what is in bloom and covers about 3 miles, at a moderate pace, with frequent stops.

Walks start from the Old Stage Day Camp. Please bring water, a hat, sturdy shoes, sunscreen, and a snack if you wish. There is no stop for lunch, but picnic tables are usually available after the walks in the Old Stage Day Camp area, where restrooms and water are available.

PRINCETON PRIZE IN RACE RELATIONS AWARDS CEREMONY

Help us celebrate this year's winner of the Princeton Prize in Race Relations. The Prize is an awards program that recognizes high school students for outstanding work in their schools or communities to advance the cause of race relations. Launched in 2003, the Prize is now in its third year of operations in the Bay Area. Our website is available at <http://www.princeton.edu/PrincetonPrize/>. We had a tremendous amount of applicant interest this year, so the winner selection process was not an easy task. Come help us celebrate the winner and support the Prize. The awards ceremony will take place in May, but the date, time and location have yet to be confirmed. Please look for updates for this information.

Pub Night in Palo Alto @ Bistro 412

Start Recovering from Reunions!

Bistro 412 (or the former Fanny & Alexander) will be the gathering spot for June's pub night. Join fellow tigers and lounge on one of their comfy couches, beverage in hand, discussing summer plans, your Euro 2008 predictions, or the great book you just finished reading.

From Hostility to Hospitality Talk, Lunch, and Tour

Join the PCNC on a delightful afternoon in Point Reyes, CA to hear about the life of Ivy Leaguer-turned-innkeeper, Bill Wigert '65, and partake in some of the best organic home-grown West Marin treats as part of an afternoon picnic lunch. We'll take a tour of the Blackthorne Inn's architectural walkways before venturing over to the Black Heron Inn, Wigert's other sister property adjacent to the Point Reyes National Seashore and overlooking the Tomales Bay and the Inverness Ridge (www.blackthorne-inn.com and www.blackheroninn.com). There is only room for 15 people. Please reserve early!

Vibrant Venezuelan Music with SFJazz

Dinner Followed by Venezuelan Jazz Greats at Herbst Theatre

Join Michele Bateman '97 for some Latin inspired rhythms at Herbst Theatre, as part of the SFJazz Spring Season series. Tickets are discounted for members of the PCNC and with a successful collaboration for this event we hope to have more events with SF Jazz during their Summer Season and original Fall Festival lineup. Come to just the show, or join us earlier for a lovely meal at nearby Hayes Valley gem, Indigo. We have a group reservation at 5 pm, where they have a nice prix-fixe option for the early crowd. We will then walk around the corner to Herbst Theatre to enjoy Venezuelan Jazz greats for a night of listening pleasure including Edward Simon and the Ensemble Venezuela, the Aquiles Baez Ensemble and the local VNote Ensemble. Experience the vibrant diversity of Venezuelan music, from African drumming to Caribbean calypso, with two international stars—pianist Simon and guitarist Baez—and Bay Area favorite Jackeline Rago's VNote Ensemble.

"It's Simon's ability to make every note count and every phrase feel special that makes his work truly sing." —All About Jazz

We have 16 tickets for our PCNC group, so send your reservation by e-mail as soon as possible, and mail your check (payable to PCNC) by May 15th. PCNC members may bring one guest at the member price. The dinner price will be based on individual order (as an example, the Prix Fixe option is $33.95 and includes wine).

Here's to a new collaboration with the world renown SFJAZZ program!

June

June Hike on Mt Tamalpais Scenic 6-7 Mile Hike on the Dipsea and Steep Ravine Trails

Join Christine Willand '98 and Dan Sullivan '63 on a leisurely 6-7 mile hike that goes along open coastal hills down the Dipsea Trail to a secluded lunch stop by the ocean. The return is a long but shaded climb through the deep forest of Steep Ravine. This may be the best single hike on Mt. Tamalpais. Bring lunch, liquids, a windbreaker, and sunscreen. Princeton friends and children are welcome.

Driving directions: Beginning at the Highway 1 exit from US 101, take Highway 1 north about 3 miles, then bear right (uphill) onto Panoramic Highway. In another mile, bear slightly left (and uphill) at an irregular four-way junction. Look for the Pantoll parking area about 4 miles further on the left-hand side of Panoramic Highway. Allow 20-30 minutes for the winding drive after you leave 101. The $5/car parking fee may be higher by June.

RSVP is helpful, particularly if you can offer or need a ride.

Both Sides of Employment Law The View from Both Sides of the Table

Princeton graduate Gina DeVito '87 has dealt with the legal needs of employees and employers in a full range of labor and employment matters. From successfully litigating on behalf of and against multi-million dollar corporations to representing wrongfully terminated employees, Gina has seen the view from both sides of the table. This will be an opportunity to learn about and discuss all aspects of employment law and the impact these issues make on all of us.

Gina was born in Brooklyn and went to USF Law School. She is a bodybuilder and runner, who competes in marathons. She serves as judge pro tem for the county of Contra Costa. She is a member of the San Francisco Trial Lawyers Association, the California Employment Lawyers Association and the Consumer Attorneys of California.

My Great-Grandfather an Inmate at Sing-Sing? Oy! Silicon Valley Luncheon

After learning that his own ancestor spent time "up the river" at Sing-Sing Prison, Ron began an investigation of all Jews who served time in the "Big House." Surprisingly (maybe not so), Ron found that there were thousands and thousands of his co-religionists who did a "stretch" at the famous institution. Ron will talk about how he got involved in this project, provide a pictorial virtual tour of the still functioning 175 year-old, maximum security prison, and discuss the NY Jewish community's response to the problem of criminality in the city.

the Ukraine, Belarus and Lithuania. He has given presentations at five of the last six IAJGS (Int'l Assoc. of Jewish Genealogical Societies) conferences, to local Jewish genealogical societies, and at history conferences across the country. He has written a book called The Jews of Sing-Sing which is available at Amazon.com. (Books will be available for purchase at the luncheon.) To facilitate his work in this area, Ron won a 2005 research grant from the New York State Archives. A veteran of the computer industry, Ron earned degrees from Princeton and the University of Chicago.

Please rsvp by e-mail and indicate if you would like a vegetarian lunch. Please cancel in advance if you will not be able to attend.
